

CATalyst Studios now open in the Main Library

The opening of CATalyst Studios marks a new chapter in how we drive student success. This is the place to create, learn new skills and find community. You can:

- Get help with geographic information system (GIS), user experience (UX), Python, data visualization and other areas of expertise.
- Learn how to use the laser cutter, 3D printer and other tech in the Maker Studio.
- Collaborate with us on your curriculum.

Panelists share stories about Raúl H. Castro

At "Remembering Raúl H. Castro: A Panel Discussion," friends and family members told stories about Arizona's first and only Mexican American governor. The event was so popular that we had to move to a larger venue, and we even had guests from different government entities, as well as the Mexican consulate.
