It is not enough to condemn racism. We need to do our part everyday.

A message on anti-racism and our way forward

We affirm that Black Lives Matter. But it is not enough to condemn racism. We need to do our part every day to build an organization that helps shape the future by actively rejecting the legacy of white supremacy.

Supporting research restart

See our supporting options ►►►

Our response to COVID-19

See our reopening update ►►►

University Libraries receives Mellon Foundation grant

This is linked to the receipt of a $175,000 grant from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. This will allow University of Arizona researchers to produce open-access humanities scholarship on the borderlands.

Learn more about the grant ►►►

2020 Olsrud Award presented to Elizabeth Kline

Congratulations to Associate Librarian Elizabeth Kline, the recipient of the 2020 Lois Olsrud Faculty Excellence Award. This annual award recognizes one of our faculty members for their contributions to the campus community.

Discover more about Elizabeth ►►►

Main Library renovations near completion

The main floor of the Main Library has been renovated and recently opened to the public.

View the slideshow ►►►

Data Visualization Challenge award winners selected

This past semester, the Libraries hosted a Data Visualization Challenge open to both undergraduate and graduate students. Six students were awarded for their creative use of maps, graphs and other graphics to tell stories.

See the visualizations ►►►

Special Collections awarded grant to digitize films by tree-ringing lab founder

Special Collections has been awarded a grant to digitize 90 motion picture films by University of Arizona professor and Laboratory of Tree-Ring Research founder, Andrew Ellicott Douglass.

Read more about the project ►►►

2020 Olsrud Award presented to Elizabeth Kline

We're here for you

Doing summer classes or research? Library Information Associate Ryan Jones explains that we're still available to support you virtually.

Watch Ryan's video ►►►

Special Collections awarded grant to digitize films by tree-ringing lab founder

We're here for you

Doing summer classes or research? Library Information Associate Ryan Jones explains that we're still available to support you virtually.

Watch Ryan's video ►►►

News from the University of Arizona Press

Congratulations to the University of Arizona Press for receiving a National Endowment for the Humanities grant and partnering with the American Academy of Poets on the Ambroggio Prize.

Learn more about the grant ►►►

Read about the partnership ►►►

www.library.arizona.edu  ►  (520) 621-6442  ►  library@arizona.edu