

Libraries announce Digital Borderlands grant recipients

People who live and work on the U.S.-Mexico borderlands will be able to see more perspectives on their history, culture, and experiences thanks to a University Libraries project to support the development of research projects that contribute to a broader understanding of the region.

The first cohort of grant recipients was recently announced for this three-year $750,000 Digital Borderlands project funded by The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.

Learn more ▶▶▶

Student-workers reflect on how work changed their views

Two of our student employees and graduating seniors, America Curl and Yashu Vats, talk about how a campus job can be a valuable part of the University experience for any student.

Read more ▶▶▶

2021 Data Visualization Challenge winners announcement

We're happy to announce the winners of the 2021 Data Visualization Challenge!

Undergraduate and graduate students from different disciplines were invited to submit visual displays of data to tell stories, and winners received awards for first place ($250), second place ($150), and third place ($100).

Read more ▶▶▶

A special shout-out to Special Collections graduate assistants

The spring semester has ended, but we wanted to give a special shout-out to the student employees in Special Collections who made great contributions over the past academic year.

Read more ▶▶▶

University of Arizona Health Sciences Library partners in $10 million National Library of Medicine cooperative agreement

The University of Arizona Health Sciences Library is partnering to expand outreach to communities through regional and national programs in nine states.

Read more ▶▶▶

www.library.arizona.edu ▶ (520) 621-6442 ▶ library@arizona.edu

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Opt out using TrueRemove™
Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.
View this email online.

1510 E. University Blvd.
Tucson, AZ | 85721 US

This email was sent to .
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

